

PURPOSE:

My goal for the onthis website is to be my personal website where my fans can find my music, merchandise, socials, etc. to stay up to date, buy merch, and listen to music. I want the site to be EXTREMELY simple and very easy to navigate to give off that 'Windows XP' vibe with a splash of my own creative influences.

Immediately on the homepage, there will be a looping video of me in my backyard with my pajamas on in front of a blue chroma key screen (to change backgrounds later on for music promotion). As well on the homepage, there will be social and streaming platform links to allow new visitors and fans to follow and listen to my released music. There will be five secondary pages on the site which are titled 'SHOP', 'ABOUT ME', 'MUSIC', 'VIDEOS', and 'TOUR', each page is kind of self-explanatory and will take the visitors to the appropriate section of their choosing. :)
